

1st Urban Transformations Symposium

Weaving knowledge and ideas towards a new transformative urban science agenda

Programme - Thursday 22nd February 2018

9:30-10:00	Reception, registration and coffee
10:00-10:30	Welcome and Setting the Scene, Dr. Niki Frantzeskaki, DRIFT, Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands What is the “new urban science”? Dr. Timon McPhearson, New School, New York, USA What is the “urban transformation science”? Dr. Marc Wolfram, SKKU (Sunkyunkwan University), Seoul/Suwon
10:30-12:00	Break out groups &gt; Working together and coffee/tea treats <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Group definition of transformative urban science</li> <li>b. Knowledge gaps: themes, methods, applications</li> </ul>
12:00-13:00	Vegetarian Lunch with Local Organic Produce
13:00-14:30	Bringing it together: Reporting back from break out groups and Plenary discussion
14:30-15:00	Coffee/Tea Break
15:00-15:30	Future Pathways of transformative urban science <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• From practice perspective, David Maddox, The Nature of Cities</li> <li>• From resilience perspective, Dr. Marcus Collier, Trinity University College, Ireland</li> <li>• From transitions perspective, Dr. Julia Wittmayer, DRIFT, Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands</li> <li>• From well-being and justice perspective, Dr. Adina Dumitru, A Coruna University, Spain</li> </ul>
15:30-16:30	Weaving Ideas and Knowledges for Transformative Urban Science, or simply: What’s next? Plenary Discussion on Future pathways
16:30-17:00	Closing of the day: Next steps, next symposium
17:00-18:00	Drinks!